THE BURNS HANDICAP.

This is how Benny Benjamin described the race for the Burns Handicap and the attendant features of the greatest race of the Pacific Slope:

"For the first time a public choice and a lightly weighted horse has won a Burns Handicap. The rain that came early yesterday morning changed the complexion of the handicap and robbed the race of any classic feature. Although the prize was the richest of the California turf, a band of selling platers with a couple of exceptions, battled for the coin over a muddy track. The high-class three-year-olds Advance Guard and F. W. Brode, were withdrawn, as neither one is at home in the mud. This left Spencer, the premier jockey of America, out in the cold, as Marty Bergen had been engaged to ride Topmast, the other representative from the stable of Carruthers & Shields. At the eleventh hour young John Schorr purchased Acrobat so that Tommy Burns would have a mount and he would have a starter for the $10,000. This deal created a breeze of excitement and was doubtless responsible for making Acrobat the favorite, although his mud proclivities were well known to turfmen.

"Never in the history of racing has there been such a big field in which so many were unable to do themselves justice in the mud. Usually, a good horse can run on any kind of a track, like Geyser, Zoroaster or Potente, but the little class to the Burns Handicap yesterday could be displayed only on a good track. This was unfortunate from a racing point of view, but it was a lucky circumstance for several owners, especially Dr. Rowell, who had two mud larks eligible in his stable. Neither one had any special class, but they were in light, especially Imperious, who had been assigned but ninety-four pounds.

"When the jockey board was posted after the third race it was found that there were thirteen starters. Arbaces had the top weight of 122 pounds, while Constellator carried but eighty-eight pounds, which was three pounds more than given him, but Phelan could not ride any lighter. Acrobat, Dr. Rowell's stable, Dr. Sheppard and Arbaces had the call with the betting public, while from 12 to 100 to 1 was obtainable against any of the other starters. Rosinante opened up at 3 to 1, but drifted to 12 to 1. There was plenty of bottled-up excitement when the horses came on the track, as the spectators knew that one horse was shortly to win $7,000 for his owner.

"If Bullman had broken with Forte, Starter Ferguson would have had the kudos of making a perfect start at the first attempt. Arbaces was responsible for another failure, and Burns, on Acrobat, was the sinner in a later attempt. After a delay of twenty minutes, Starter Ferguson shot the barrier and the race for the big money was on. A capital start had been made, although the delay told against the top weights. A mighty roar of 'they're off' went up from thousands of throats, which the jockeys must have heard as they scrambled for advantageous positions. As the big field approached the stand mud was flying in all directions. Dr. Sheppard and Pat Morrissey were at the head of affairs, with the field close up with the exception of Topmast, Rosinante and Forte. Considering the big field, there was a minimum of crowding around the first turn, but a cry of alarm went up from the backers of Dr. Sheppard as that horse bolted to the outside of the track, materially affecting his chances. At the half mile pole Pat Morrissey led by two lengths, with Imperious second, Arbaces third, Formero fourth and Dr. Sheppard fifth. In the center of the flying field were Acrobat, Dr. Nem-bula, Rosormonde and Malay. Rosinante was eleventh, with only Topmast and Forte behind her. Acrobat encouraged his backers for a few seconds around the far turn, but he dropped back again. There were renewed scenes of excitement when Pat Morrissey swung into the stretch in the lead of his field, and thousands shouted his name. Half way down the stretch Pat Morrissey still lead and his supporters were frantic with joy, but he faltered when nearing the trainers' stand and Devin, coming with Imperious under full sail, flew past the tiring leader and had the race at his mercy. There was a terrific struggle for the place, and Rosinante, eleventh at the half-mile pole, came very fast at the end and beat Formero a head for the place, while Topmast, Constellator and Arbaces were so close together that it required some discrimination to separate them.

"The way that Rosinante ran showed that she could have won 'hands down' on a dry or fast track. If anything, a little too much use was made of Arbaces, but he doubtless tired at the end under the weight. Topmast ran a much better race than expected, and Constellator would have taken a whole lot of beating on a good track. Rosormonde could not show her true quality in the going. Formero ran a capital race.

"Imperious first ran in the colors of A. B. Sprackels and was subsequently owned by Pat Dunne, Barney Schreiber and Dr. Rowell. He is a bay gelding by Morello—Helen Scratch. John Mackey bred the animal, who is a half brother to old Braw Scot. He has been running in cheap selling races all the season and has frequently been entered to be sold for $200. In fact, about a month ago Dr. Rowell would not have refused $700 for the gelding. He was offered at auction and was withdrawn on account of not eliciting a satisfactory bid. Dr. Rowell had been phenomenally lucky in the Burns Handicap. He captured the race in 1898 with Satsuma, and that horse finished second last year. It is safe to predict that his candidates in 1901 will come in for some consideration. Devin, who piloted Imperious to victory, is a discovery of Tom Boyle. He hails from Sacramento and has been riding only a couple of seasons. He went east with the Burns & Waterhouse stable and won several races at St. Louis."

CINCINNATI DATES.

Yesterday's Cincinnati Commercial Tribune contained the following important statement: "At a conference held in the offices of the Latonia Jockey Club yesterday between Col. W. E. Applegate and Frank Fowler, of the Newport track, it was practically agreed that the local race season will not be opened until May 21. Following this date the Latonia and Newport tracks will alternate the race dates from week to week until each course has given a meeting of three weeks' duration. Newport will not conflict with the Memphis meeting or the Louisville meeting, and perfect harmony will also exist in her relations with Latonia. The above is the sum and substance of the conference between Messrs. Applegate and Fowler, but it will not be announced as official until Ed Hopper, the secretary of the Latonia track, arrives home from San Francisco, where he is at present presiding judge of the Oakland track. Mr. Hopper will arrive here one week from to-day and then the official dates of the Newport and Latonia tracks will be given out. Messrs. Applegate and Fowler had no trouble in reaching an understanding, as it was apparent to both that their interests would be served best by reaching an amicable arrangement. They readily agreed to alternate the local race dates and give meetings each lasting three weeks. Which track will open the season was not decided upon and will not be until Secretary Hopper has been consulted. The support of the Louisville and Latonia tracks will be accorded Newport, and, after the meeting of the first named, special efforts will be made to induce the big book-makers and the best class of horses to race on the local tracks.

Accordingly the local season of racing will not begin until about May 21 and the wind-up will be the last day in June or probably July 4. Both Colonel Applegate and Mr. Fowler were well pleased over the partition of local race dates, and they stated the prospects for successful meetings were very bright. The management of the Latonia and Newport tracks will make a special effort to put the sport on a good footing this spring, and it is proposed to interest local railroads and business men in the game. The races have always attracted liberal out-of-town crowds, and with special railroad rates during the six weeks of sport it is argued many thousands of visitors will be brought within the gates of the Queen City.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The great colt Flying Fox was sold at the auction of the late Duke of Westminster's horses yesterday for the unprecedented sum of $187,500, the French turfman, M. Blanc, being the purchaser. In his career in England last year Flying Fox not only won the "Triple Crown," the Two Thousand Guineas, Epsom Derby and Doncaster St. Leger, but he also won the three great $50,000 prizes, the Princess of Wales, Eclipse and Jockey Club Stakes. He is by common consent one of the grandest race horses of the past decade. His grandsire, Ormonde, sold for $150,000 at private sale, so that the family holds the crown for selling for tremendous prices.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Subscriber, Chicago.—Bets made on the Burns & Waterhouse two-year-old Sea Bass that was injured while at the post in the third race at Oakland, March 6, and was excused therefor, stand. Racing at Oakland is conducted under rules which provide that all bets stand on horses after they are in the starter's hands, so the backers of Sea Bass lost their wagers.

Bobby Smith has named his July-Hidalga colt Frank Erne, in honor of the light-weight pugilistic champion. Smith has been managing Erne ever since the Buffalo boxer quit Jim Kennedy.

J. Coleman, St. Louis, Mo.—The parle bet wins on Sidney Lucas. Straight bets on Advance Guard are to be refunded.

Mr. Milton Young has sold Alcedo, b. c. 3, by Esher—Elopement, by Hindoo, to Pat Corrigan for $1,000.

R. C. Chicago.—Yes. Michaels won on Miss Dede in the first race at New Orleans February 26.

THE CONQUEROR CASE AGAIN.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of yesterday contains the following statement:

"Assistant Secretary Dillon yesterday announced the decision rendered by the Committee on Appeals of the American Turf Congress regarding the eligibility of Paddy Tomlinson's colt The Conqueror in the western Derbys this year.

"There are two colts by the name of The Conqueror this season, and the question put before the Committee on Appeals was whether Tomlinson's colt had a right to run under that name or not. Tomlinson's colt is a three-year-old, by Sir Dixon—Repeat. The other colt is a two-year-old, by Jim Gore—Bacchante, and is owned by Colonel W. S. Barnes, of Lexington.

"Mr. Barnes claimed the name The Conqueror for his colt with the Jockey Club in New York, but Mr. Tomlinson did not. Mr. Tomlinson's reason for not claiming the name when he first started was because there was no rule in the west at the time compelling him to do so. The Turf Congress rule simply required the name of a horse to be made known before starting. Since then the rule has been revised, and owners are required to register names with the Jockey Club.

"Mr. Tomlinson's colt, therefore, is not barred from starting under that name, nor is Mr. Barnes' two-year-old. There will be two The Conquerors on the turf this season. Mr. Tomlinson desires to race his colt in the east and there is no reason why he should not be allowed to do so under the circumstances."

It is quite probable that the decision of the Committee on Appeals, if it has rendered any, is incorrectly, or not fully, given in the foregoing. It would be manifestly absurd to say that "Mr. Tomlinson's reason for not claiming the name when he first started was because there was no rule in the west at the time compelling him to do so. The Turf Congress rule simply required the name of a horse to be made known before starting," because, when Mr. Tomlinson's Sir Dixon—Repeat colt first started in 1899, this rule in regard to naming was in full force.

A claim for a name may also be made to the secretary of the course where a horse first runs, PROVIDED THE CLAIM, WITH ALL REGISTRATION FEES IS AT THE SAME TIME FORWARDED TO THE STUD BOOK for proper record. No name shall be registered unless with a designating numeral if the same has been theretofore duly recorded in the Stud Book for any other animal foaled within six years then preceding.

Now it is not pretended that a claim for the name was forwarded to the stud book as the rule quoted required and in fact no such claim has been made to this day. Furthermore, if such a claim had been duly forwarded to the registrar of the stud book it would have been rejected for the plain reason that Col. W. S. Barnes' Jim Gore—Bacchante colt had then for nearly a year been the rightful owner of the name The Conqueror, it having been claimed and allowed him when he was a weanling.

If the Committee on Appeals has decided that both colts—one a three-year-old and the other a two-year-old—can run as The Conqueror this year, the members must be misinformed as to the facts in this annoying case for one thing, and for another are severely straining the American Racing Rules in order to favor a good colt and an honest owner. It is not likely that owners who may chance to run second to Mr. Tomlinson's colt in valuable events will in all cases hold themselves bound by any decision in which those rules are clearly contravened. As a consequence trouble is probably storing up for racing officials all along the line.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

John Rodegap, the veteran trainer, will give Woodford & Buckner's good colt, Kentucky
Farmer, a special "prep" for the Kentucky Derby. Kentucky Farmer is the grand-looking Leonatus-Plantress colt that performed so creditably at the Fair Grounds last season.
Mr. Rodegap knows how to prepare Derby candidates, having conditioned Spokane when the great Montana colt defeated Proctor Knott in both the Kentucky Derby and the Clark Stakes back in the eighties.—St. Louis Republic.

Among California-bred two-year-olds that Charles Littlefield, Jr., has in training at Morris Park is a half sister to Pat Dunne's great horse Salvable, by Salvator. This filly has been named Sweet Lavender by Mr. Littlefield. She is by Goldfinch—Lydia, and was bred at Rancho del Paso.

F. W. Doss has sold the three-year-old bay colt Decoy, by Deceiver—Nantucket, to George Miller for $1,500. He is now on route for New Orleans, taking Tarhill along.

Al Weston has sold the bay colt La Vega, 3,
by Devotee—Carola, to W. McInerney. Terms private.

Knightbanneret, Frelinghuysen and Water
Crest are all on the ailing list at New Orleans.
